WHAT IS BROAD STREET — IN FLUX

Broad Street — In Flux is a one-day chronological documentary archive of Philadelphia.

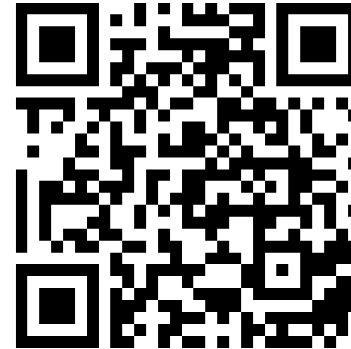

Two photographers walked Broad Street, moving through the city in real time.

Every photograph was made using the same visual system and embedded with GPS metadata at the moment of capture.

This entire project — the zine, map, website, metadata archive, and digital publication — was generated automatically using FLUX, an open-source chronological photography publishing system.

The system generates:

- PDF publication (this document)
- interactive map (Leaflet.js / OpenStreetMap)
- contact sheet
- metadata manifest (CSV + JSON)
- original JPEG files
- digital archive (static HTML, no server required)
